Editor's Column

Why, this Spring are the sides of the Ocean Avenue footpath from Junipero to the city limits sere and shorn? What made the street department spray and clean up this area so that johnny-jump-ups, brodiaea, shooting stars and blue-eyed grass no longer delight those who tread the path? Will the mariposa lilies bloom this year? These are questions that have disturbed Carmelites the last week or so.

A talk with Street Superintendent William Askew reveals that the desolation is the result of the high school football field.

He says a particularly tough type of grass, which mats solidly and has a heavy root system that spreads and spreads and spreads even from one small joint, has invaded the Ocean Avenue slope.

Seeds of this grass have been wafted into town from the football field at the high school. The sandy soil on the Ocean Avenue hillside is suited to the invader, which, if left in the ground, will flourish until it chokes all other growth including bushes.

So the street department has resorted to spraying and hoeing to kill the unwanted grass. Raking has been the next procedure and was necessary not only to remove destroyed growth but also all the papers and debris thrown into the grass by litterers.

Next step will be to plant pines and oaks. This will improve the appearance of the main entrance to the city. However other native plants and shrubs would add to the beauty of the hillside. At present the blue of blooming ceanothus beautifies the center strip on Junipero below Seventh, also the canyon slopes at Forest Hill Park. Can't we have more of this natural shrubbery and other indigenous growth on city property? And somehow, some way, can't wildflowers be seeded beside the Ocean Avenue path and elsewhere?

Wildflower seeding would be a rewarding project for youth groups and other civic-minded organizations to undertake at the proper time. An authority on growing wildflowers, Mrs. Lester Rowntree, lives in Carmel Highlands. It is one of her fondest dreams to see the Ocean Avenue slope and other roadsides all over California beautified with indigenous growth.

Carmel used to have a policy of planting only natives to this area on city property.

It would be wonderful if next Spring the Ocean Avenue slope and other city-owned areas were natural gardens to delight Carmelites and amaze visitors—set an example for all of California to follow.

ELECTION RESULTS

On Tuesday, voters in the Carmel Unified School District re-elected Clayton B. Neill Jr. and Dr. Robert E. Newton for four-year terms on the board of education. Votes cast were: Neill, 1,912; Newton, 1,829; Dr. Friedy Heisler, 744.

Elected to the Board of Trustees of Monterey Peninsula Junior College for four-year terms were Ralph Atkinson and Sherman A. Smith. They received 4,088 and 3,988 votes respectively. Dr. Grant Vartabedian received 3,073 votes; Dr. Joseph Noto, 2,560; and Edward Mitchell, 1,379.

Mrs. Doris Manning was re-elected to the Monterey County Board of Education.

"Play Ball!" on Saturday at 11 a.m. will be the signal to start the ninth season of Carmel Little League baseball competition. Mayor Herbert Blanks will throw out the first ball.

Teams which will compete in the 1965 opening game will be Camera Craft and Derek Rayne.

At 12:45 p.m. opening day ceremonies will be held followed by a Boys' Town versus P.A. Macs game at 1:15 p.m. The third game of the season will be played between the Wilder and Jones and Sport Shop teams at 3 p.m.

Lieutenant Commander Ernest Fischbein, 1965 Little League president, promises fun and food for fans, parents and players on Saturday at the Little League field on Rio Road beside Carmel Mission. Mothers of the players will be in charge of the booth where refreshments will be available.

All is in readiness for the coming season except in one respect. President Fischbein is sending out a plea for volunteer announcers for the games. This is a spot where grandfathers, for example, could participate in the Little League season other than as spectators. He says games are not long and there will be spotters to help with the names of the players.

"Games are much more interesting when announced," Commander Fischbein declares. Anyone interested in volunteering as an announcer may telephone him at 624-7742 or Mrs. Gene Vandervort at 624-8801.

LAGUNA SECA RACES MAY 7, 8, AND 9

The Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula has set May 7, 8 and 9 as the dates for the third regional running of the United States Road Racing Championships at Laguna Seca racetrack.

Jim Hall of Midland, Texas, will compete in his Chevy Chaparral. Local drivers will be Ed Leslie and Don Wester. Top purse will be $1,500. Second place will earn $1,200 and third place $1,000.

Group To Develop Cultural Center Is Incorporated

Today, a group of Peninsula residents interested in the arts planned to sign articles of incorporation, also go on a tour of possible sites for a $2-$3 million dollar cultural center. The Sunset School property is one of the sites being considered for the proposed development.

The purpose of Arts Inc., the name under which the group will be incorporated, is "to acquire, develop, operate and maintain a suitable site to serve as a center for performances and exhibitions of theatrical, musical, graphic arts and allied arts; and to provide facilities for community activities," Malcolm S. Millard, a member of the group, stated yesterday.

Facilities for instruction in the arts mentioned above are planned to be included in the Arts Inc. development, Mr. Millard added.

Considerable parking space, available to the public when not needed by center patrons and occupants, is also in the preliminary plans of Arts Inc. members. They are, in addition to Mr. Millard, Richard Osborne, Roddy B. Holt, Will V. Shaw, C. Mark Thomas, Nancy M. Walker and Kenneth A. Ehrman.

On any site selected by Arts Inc. for the proposed cultural center, new development is planned and will include suitable accommodations for the activities of Peninsula cultural organizations such as the Carmel Bach Festival, the Festival Theatre of California, the Monterey County Symphony Association, the Carmel Music Society and other non-profit

Carmel Planners Advise County On New Subdivision

A letter advising serious consideration of a proposed nine-lot Rio Way Tract No. 2, adjacent to Mission Fields, was authorized to be sent to the Monterey County Planning Commission by the Carmel Planning Commission yesterday afternoon.

The letter, to be written by Planning Director Floyd Adams, will list previous objections to this subdivision by the Carmel Sanitary District, also the Carmel commission acting in its legal advisory capacity to the county body.

The subdivision request is being presented to the county planning commission on Tuesday by Clarence Niebuhr who has bought the property, located along Carmel River, from Walt Pilot.

The subdivision plan showed lots varying in size from 6,000 to over 20,000 square feet, the latter in areas subject to possible flood conditions.

Building Inspector Richard Thomas reported that the sanitary district has come to a satisfactory agreement with the subdivider regarding deflection of the river on to the sanitary district plant. Presently proposed levees and dikes will eliminate this hazard, he said.

Carmel planners were concerned that the area plan's designation of the riverbed for park use be preserved as much as possible and that flood control measures be adequate before the county approves this development. This concern will be stated in Mr. Adams' letter.

Commissioners also held a public hearing on a proposed dog

Citizens Committee Stymied On Policy Statements Request

"I don't like to disturb founding statements," Mayor Herbert Blanks declared last night in answer to a request of the Carmel Citizens Committee that additional statements of policy be incorporated into the preamble to Carmel's zoning law.

This preamble declares that Carmel is predominately a residential city wherein business and commerce have been, are now, and shall be in the future subordinated to the residential character of the community.

Mayor Blanks was of the opinion that adding to this statement would be comparable to changing the Declaration of Independence or the preamble to the Constitution of the United States.

Councilman Eben Whittlesey agreed and said Carmel's present preamble provided an adequate

Science Subcommittee Criticizes Curriculum In School Board Report

The first reports from subcommittees of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on curriculum—science and foreign languages—received last night by the board of education of the Carmel Unified School District, contained two recommendations in common: first, that the two subjects be more closely integrated with all curriculum in long range programs relating the content and application of these subjects to everyday experience; second, that the teaching of them begin at an earlier level.

In the case of science, it was additionally recommended that the content of what is being taught, particularly at the elementary level, be reviewed with the aim of providing instruction in basic principles of applied science rather than the mere "passing along" of scientific information.

The subcommittee on science report stated that any definition of the word must encompass at least four points, science information, scientific methods, technology, identification and consumption.

The report further indicated that what is most needed is a sequential, coordinated science program beginning in the primary grades and continuing through high school. Such a program should be oriented toward the teaching of fundamentals, rather than techniques which will soon be outdated, and students should be prepared to apply science in their daily lives instead of regarding it as only for the scientifically oriented. The Carmel school system, it was found, does not treat science as a cultural subject, like history, which should be part of the background of every educated person.

In the high school program, college entrance requirements are the criteria and little is done beyond preparing students to pass college board examinations. Adequate efforts are not being made to meet the needs of the non-technical student, and the needs of the junior college and terminal students are almost completely neglected.

Recommendations for the implementation of a coordinated science program, with methodology based on the teaching of basic principles, contained suggestions for continuing education for teachers through extension courses and workshops; communication of the teachers among themselves, within and between levels; the use by the district of teachers as coordinators; acceptance of the qualified teacher's judgment as to class size, facilities and equipment.

The committee further reported

Opening Night Of 'Chalk Garden At Circle Tomorrow

Enid Bagnold's "The Chalk Garden," which opens tomorrow at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre, is the only play to have been produced twice in the 13-year history of the arena playhouse. Frederick Rider, who, this week, will repeat the role he played in the 1958 production, explains that requests for a revival of "The Chalk Garden" have been frequent and enthusiastic during the past seven years.

"It is one of the plays that lingers in the minds of our audience. We expect to give them an even better performance of it the second time around," Mr. Rider says. He has relinquished his directing duties for this production to guest director Barnett Owen.

Ruth Marion McElroy, Marcia Hovick and Mason Wright head the cast of the revival, with Penelope Nesbitt and Margaret Phillips in other major roles. Connie Palms returns to the little theatre stage with a part in this play.

The Circle has scheduled seven weeks of performances for "The Chalk Garden," on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets are available at Central Box Office in Carmel.

Authorities Advise About Planning New High School Library

Preliminary study for a new library at Carmel High School was undertaken last week by trustees of the Carmel Unified School District when Warren Edwards, high school principal, outlined requirements for a new library resulting from the visits of two experts in the school library field.

Sent to Carmel, on the request of Superintendent Medill Bair, by the Educational Facilities Laboratory of New York, a subsidiary of the Ford Foundation, were Dr. Ellsworth Mason of Hofstra College on Long Island and Dr. Arno de Bernardis, assistant superintendent of the Portland (Oregon) schools. As a result of their visits, Mr. Edwards gave the board a list of 20 items recommended by Dr. Mason, an expert on modern school library needs.

A list of 15 items for study resulted from Dr. de Bernardis' visit. He is an authority on multi-medias such as audio-visual equipment considered a necessity in school libraries today.

A report on the science-centered elementary school program for this year, prepared by Richard O'Connell, was presented for the board's consideration. This program, designed for 300 students, will consist of three teams, Alpha (grades 2-4), Beta (grades 4-6) and Gamma (grades 6-8). Class size will average 25 pupils and emphasis will be on the individual student. Instruction will be organized around science units which have not been previously taught in the Carmel district. The staff will consist of twelve regular classroom teachers. A "nationally known consultant in science and science education" will help organize and operate the program.

The board, regretfully accepted the resignation of Mrs. Marquita Brey who stated illness forced her to give up her English teaching at the high school. Resignations were also accepted from Mrs. Jacqueline Lewis, health teacher at the junior high, and Miss Jo Ann Combs, 4th grade teacher at River School.

Three new teachers were hired for the high school faculty. They are William F. Stone Jr., art teacher to replace Richard Hagadorn who has resigned; Michael George Williams, additional English teacher; and Michael William Olivas who will teach Spanish and coach.

The board adopted a new policy

Local Girls Vie Saturday In Miss Monterey Pageant

Two Carmel High School graduates will compete for the title of Miss Monterey County of 1965 on Saturday night in the pageant which begins at 8 p.m. in the Pacific Grove Junior High School auditorium. They are Stephenie Jacot Cummings and Joyce Virginia Vartabedian.

Wendy Lee Douglas, Miss California of 1963, and Fred Gallagher will emcee the show. Wendy will also sing.

The two local girls will compete against nine other entries. Stephenie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cummings of Carmel and is a student at Monterey Peninsula College. For 16 years she has studied ballet dancing and spent one year at the Royal Ballet School in London, England. She also won a scholarship with the Pacific Ballet Company of San Francisco and was a soloist with this company for six months.

Joyce is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Grant Vartabedian of Pebble Beach. She is a freshman at MPC and has studied the violin for five years, also has had special training in dancing. She hopes to complete her education at the University of Southern California.

Stephenie is being sponsored by MBS department store and Joyce by Beattie Motors, Inc. The Miss Monterey County contest is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Junior Chamber of Commerce. Tickets for the pageant may be obtained at the door on Saturday night.

providing industrial accident and illness leave for certificated and classified employees. Assistant Superintendent Wayne Greenfield was named to represent the board at a meeting of property owners interested in adequate planning for the extension of sewers to Carmel Valley in the vicinity of the junior high. This meeting will be on April 30, 10 a.m., at the Carmel Rancho administrative office. It has been called by Dr. Myron W. Husband, director of public health for Monterey County.

The Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula was given permission by school trustees to use Bay school as a Summer Bible School for two one-week periods this summer. A letter of complaint from Harry E. Pendleton was acknowledged. He objected to a recent talk at the junior high by a clergyman who had taken part in the Selma, Alabama, protest march. The board was informed that the subject matter in the talk had been checked by the principal of the school and the superintendent beforehand.

Trustees re-employed the firm of B. L. Heckenlaibel to audit the district's books at a fee of not more than $1,800.

Eldon Dedini Among Peninsula Residents To Give Seminars May 8 For Students From 200 Schools

Eldon Dedini, above, local resident and national magazine cartoonist, will lead a seminar on cartooning at a day-long Central California Scholarship Federation Conference scheduled for May 8 at Seaside High School.

Mr. Dedini's will be one of 16 seminars being offered to over 1,500 college-bound honor students from 200 Central California high schools.

Also presenting individual seminars at the conference are Peninsula residents Kenneth W. Wiese, Fred Keeble, Arthur Jeseau, Doris Gates, Judson E. Vandevere, Ben Bishop, Ansel Adams, Wynn Bullock, John Gosling, Nick Hovick and Dewie Dutton. Chancellor Dean McHenry of the University of California at Santa Cruz is the conference keynote speaker.

The Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula, a lay organization, is in charge of handling the seminars as a service to the California Scholarship Federation.

Mr. Dedini will show his seminar audience examples of good cartooning to demonstrate the history and philosophy of this form of art.

A native Californian, Eldon Dedini began drawing when he was five years old. As a young boy, he spent hours copying Esquire cartoons, but was soon drawing his own. In junior college Dedini began to sell a few of his cartoons and after working on the Salinas Californian won a scholarship at the Chouinard Art Institute.

After four years as an Esquire staff member, Mr. Dedini moved back to California and built a house on the Peninsula. He currently draws for the New Yorker, Playboy, Look, and Esquire. He was voted Gag Cartoonist of the Year at the last award dinner of the National Cartoonists' Society.

Kenneth W. Wiese, crafts instructor in the Carmel school system for 12 years, will present a seminar on the art of lapidary. He holds a master's degree in industrial education and will work only with California specimens to give his audience some idea of identification of minerals and rocks and then actually demonstrating how they are cut.

Fred Keeble, Carmel resident and partner in the architectural firm of Keeble and Rhoda, is scheduled to give a seminar in architecture. Mr. Keeble plans to include models, scale drawings, and diagrams in his presentation to show the world of architecture to the young audience.

"Wild Lands and Forests" is the topic of the seminar being delivered by Mr. Arthur Jeseau, California state forest fire prevention officer. A trained and experienced forester, Mr. Jeseau will show that a knowledge of the out of doors can bring real joy to the lover of "green belts."

"Intertidal Adventures" will be presented to interested students by Judson E. Vandevere, a Monterey resident who serves as summer ranger and naturalist at Point Lobos State Park. Seminar members will learn about tide pool exploration, skin diving, and beachcombing from Mr. Vandevere who is a leader of Sierra Club workshops on tide pool explorations.

Doris Gates, Carmel Highlands resident, nationally known lecturer and author of children's books, will present a seminar on creative writing and reading.

A native Californian, she will discuss the qualities which she has found necessary for literary creativity. Stressing the crucial need of a sense of humor in writing and in life, Miss Gates will strive to help prospective writers in her seminar make the best use of their senses and talents.

Another Carmel Highlands resident and nationally known photographer, Ansel Adams, is scheduled to demonstrate the role photography is now playing in conservation and keeping America beautiful.

The Lyceum has arranged for another Carmelite, John Gosling, to lead a seminar on music. Placing emphasis on instrumental music, Mr. Gosling, who has conducted the Monterey County Symphony for over four years, will show his youthful audience that music is the universal language and brings pleasure to all who participate.

Folk singers Dewie Dutton of Carmel and Nick Hovick, have agreed to lead a special seminar on folk singing. They will demonstrate how the rearrangement of early folk tunes can be a creative experience. A session of group singing and a hootenanny is also to be included.

Discussion on the understanding of modern art and the contributions of old masters will be undertaken by Ben Bishop, teacher of drawing and painting at Santa Catalina School.

Carmel High School CSF members who will attend the all-day conference include Linda Lachmund, Lois Watson, Barbara L. Arnn, Eric Danysh, Betty Wanda Haak, Mark E. Sinclair, Clyn Smith, Erica Steinberger, Glenn Kovacevich.

Also David Erickson, Thomas Arima, Geoffrey Cocks, Robert Fonseca, Roger Fonseca, Jeff Hudson, Hazel Jacoby, Peter Muhs, Connie Norwick, David Partridge, Susan Rzeppa, Doug Watson, Gerald Montgomery, Sharon Smith.

And Natalie Chapman, Barbara Coss, Martha Crow, Diane Gay Davis, Brian MacManus, Micky Miyamoto, Adriann Ricupero, Scott Sinclair, Stephen Barnett, and Linda Finlayson.

Change Of Residence

Commander J. Ogden Hoffman (USN Ret.) and Mrs. Hoffman have moved from Carmel Valley and are now making their home at Canterbury Woods in Pacific Grove. Mrs. Hoffman has been a frequent contributor, under the name of Phoebe W. Hoffman, to the poetry column of the Pine Cone.

A Son For Canavarros

Happy, first-time parents are Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Canavarro, II, whose son, Antonio de Souza, was born on April 12 at the Community Hospital.

The new baby's grandmother, Mrs. Kim Canavarro, is a resident of Rancho Rio Vista. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weber of Pacific Grove.

At Food Service Conference

Two Carmel school cafeteria managers, Mrs. Florence Turner of Sunset and Mrs. Elsie Wilmot of Tulareitos, attended a meeting of the California Schools Food Service Association in Oakland last Monday and Tuesday. They report that the conferences and exhibits (of both equipment and new methods of food preparation) were highly informative and interesting. The highlight of the meeting, however, according to Mrs. Wilmot, was the banquet on Tuesday evening at the new Kaiser Center, where over 1,000 people were served in approximately five minutes. A style show of uniforms, hair styles and even wigs was a part of the entertainment, and the banquet guests heard an excellent address by Dr. John Perryman, executive director of the American Schools Food Service Association.

Picnic In The Hay Field

A sprinkling of Carmelites joined upper Valleyites at the annual Easter egg hunt and picnic held by Tommy and Phil Cordrey last Sunday on the sloping, oak-bordered meadows above the Cordreys' home in Carmel Valley. Tommy Cordrey, with her usual flair, had decorated the egg-hunt area and the picnic table with bright streamers, balloons, bunnies and baskets. The decorations, combined with the lush green grass and abundant wildflowers, presented a Camelot-like landscape.

Dozens of small fry searched for brightly colored eggs and a special golden egg, later enjoyed the picnic fare before everyone moved from beneath the oaks to the meadow to indulge in sack races, three-legged races and a creaking baseball game.

Carmelites at the outing were the Larry Sweeneys, with Patsy and Jimmy Sweeney; Jean Draper and her daughter, Susie; Bob Stephenson and his son, Twig; Diane and John Bohlman; Suzie Vial and Rudy Lamar.

Contractors Conference

The seventh annual Monterey conference of the Northern and Central California chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America, Inc. will be held next Thursday and Friday at the Mark Thomas Inn, Monterey. It is announced by Joseph B. Fratessa of Carmel, president, chapter director and member of the conference committee.

Mr. Fratessa reports that the subject for the business session on Friday will be "AGC Contractors in Government," and for Saturday, "The Associated General Contractors of America and You."

Tea For Humphrey Associates

Members of Democratic clubs and their guests are invited to a silver tea and champagne reception Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Griffith at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tuttle, 1717 Monterey Highway.

Mrs. Griffith was Mrs. Hubert Humphrey's press secretary during the 1964 campaign. A Stanford graduate, she is a former reporter for the San Francisco Examiner and the Washington Post.

Mr. Griffith, also a former Examiner reporter, was Vice President Humphrey's press secretary for four years during his last senatorial term. He is the author of "Humphrey — A Candid Biography," said by one reviewer to be the best biography of an active politician in many years. The author, now chief deputy controller in Sacramento, will autograph copies of his book at the reception.

Arrangements for the event were made by members of the Salinas Women's Democratic Club.

Vacation In Tahiti

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew C. Jenkins of Pebble Beach left by plane yesterday for Tahiti for a vacation which they have repeated annually for the last few years. Part of their visit will be spent on Bora Bora at their favorite "hotel," a complex of thatch cottages, with modern comforts, set in a tropical garden near a beautiful beach. Since learning to use snorkels, the Jenkinses particularly enjoy observing the marine life in the clear, warm waters off their beach which is protected by a barrier reef.

This year, Mr. Jenkins has his underwater camera at the ready (having bought it last year but left it behind) and hopes to bring back some spectacular photographs.

Shorts Visit Jefferses

John and Peggy Short, with their two younger children, Jody and Lenci, left Oxford, England, on April 12 to spend the Spring holiday traveling through England and Ireland. Part of the family's vacation will be spent visiting Lee and Donnan Jeffers at Kilmacthomas, County Waterford, Ireland. While there, John and Jody plan to do some fishing, which is reportedly excellent. Lenci, an ardent equestrienne, is looking forward to exploring the countryside on horseback with young Una Jeffers.

Donnan and Lee are expecting a number of visitors from the United States this summer, among them Jane Ellen and Bertrand D'Avenas and their children.

Visitors At Martinez Home

Micaela DuCasse, with her daughters, Monique DuCasse and Mrs. David (Jeanne) McCreary, and her new grandson, Bruce McCreary, were here over the Easter holidays for a visit at the home of Mrs. DuCasse's mother, Mrs. Elsie Martinez of Carmel Point.

"Ky," as Micaela is known to old friends in Carmel, now lives in the old Piedmont studio of her late artist father, Xavier Martinez, who taught for many years at the California School of Arts and Crafts in Oakland. The studio was at one time the gathering place for his circle of friends from all over the world—artists, writers, musicians. Ky, an artist in her own right, now also teaches in the art department of the Catholic College for Women in San Francisco.

Win State Scholarships

Three Carmel High School students have been selected as state scholars by the State Scholarship Commission for the academic year 1965-66. Dennis J. McGinley, Erica H. Steinberger and Lois M. Watson are among those chosen from approximately 21,000 applicants.

The awards are made to academically able students and this year all recipients are within the highest two percent of college aptitude.

It's A Boy!

Even if it were a girl, the first baby of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dufur would be equally welcome. As it is Bradley Paul, who was born at Community Hospital on April 9, is the center of attention of parents and grandparents alike.

The new baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Dufur of Carmel Valley, Mrs. Audrey Brosche of Carmel and Philip Brosche of Paradise, California. Bradley also has an aunt, Juanita Brosche of Carmel. Both his father and mother, the former Phyllis Brosche, are Carmel High School graduates.

Retired Teachers Meet

The Monterey County Division of the California Retired Teachers' Association met yesterday for a luncheon prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 6849, at Spreckels Veterans' Memorial Building in Spreckels.

This year the adoption, on a yearly basis, of a Korean orphaned girl was made a voluntary project by unanimous consent of the county retired teachers chapter.

Spring In Brittany

Bertrand D'Avenas took off in a cloud of Gallic farewells this week to drive to New York, where he will subsequently board the new liner La France for the crossing to Europe.

Except for some excursions, he will stay in Brittany at the home of his mother in Quimper until June, when he will go to Ireland to meet his wife, Jane Ellen, and their children. The latter part of the family must await the close of school before they can join him in Cork, whence they will travel to Kilmacthomas for a visit with Lee and Donnan Jeffers.

Peter Hensel Visited

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hensel were here last week for a brief visit with Peter's mother, Mrs. Philip H. Smith, and Mr. Smith at their home in Carmel Knolls. Peter, who has many friends here, is now a reporter on the Humboldt Times in Eureka, where the young couple make their home.

Jon Gamble In Oratory Finals

Jon Gamble of Carmel High School placed first in the individual awards for Original Oratory in the qualifying tournament for the Pacific Forensic League Saturday. Jon will travel to Santa Barbara April 30 to participate in the State Championship Speech Tournament at the University of California.

Carmel High debate teams, under the direction of Hadley Hicks, placed fifth in the qualifying tournament held at Hartnell College on April 10. Teams participating were Jon Gamble-Roger Fonseca, Jay Lang-Robin Kvenild and Diane Davis-Bey Spencer.

Congressman Talcott Reports

A no-host reception in honor of Representative Burt Talcott will be held at La Playa Hotel this evening from 5 to 7 p.m. Congressman Talcott will present a report on legislation in Washington at 6 p.m.

Republicans are urged to attend and bring guests to hear the legislator's factual report.

Gina Millington Engaged

English-born and Carmel-schooled Gina Millington will become the bride of Ron Stout in London on August 22. Gina, now a teacher in the San Jose elementary schools, announced her engagement to friends and former Carmel High School classmates on April 11 at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Joseph D. Raney of Carmel.

The daughter of the late Mrs. Edward Onze, Gina also attended Monterey Peninsula College and graduated from San Jose State College.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecyl Stout of Coulterville, studied at Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles, San Francisco School of Fine Arts, and in Milan, Italy. Ron is now painting and teaching in Madrid.

Gina will sail for England, via the Panama Canal, in late June and will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stout. Following their wedding, the young couple will make their home in northern Italy.

Publication Scheduled

"Principles of Radio-Electronics," a text for college use by Stephen James of Carmel Valley, will be published in the Fall by John Wiley & Sons, Inc. An up-to-date revision of "Principles of Radio" by Dr. Keith Henney, it will actually be the seventh edition—though quite an original version—of that book. The author, coordinator of technical-vocation education at Monterey Peninsula College, is also preparing a manual for instructors in electronics at the college level to be published by Wiley.

A writer of diversified talents, Mr. James is also the author, with his wife, Sue, of "Gifts from the Garden," and illustrated magazine articles.

Since 1959, Mr. James has been an instructor of electronics at the college and was for four years chairman of that department.

Adventurous Travelers

Braving the roads of Baja California is not for the timid; but for those who love the country, the agonizingly slow pace over desert, rugged mountains and rocky trails is worth every bit of discomfort. It obviously is to three Carmel couples who spent the Easter vacation, and a bit more, driving as far as Bahia de Los Angeles on the gulf side of Baja.

Cliff (Frenchy) and Freda LaNeve left Carmel April 11 to rendezvous with Marion and George Holloway and Dorothy and Bud Edward, whose son Steve accompanied them. Their route passed through San Felipe, Gonzaga Bay and Puertocitos. Freda LaNeve, the only member of the group who had not previously made the trip, reports that the worst and most awesome section was between Gonzaga Bay and Puertocitos, where the road wound steeply through towering mountains. The party enjoyed several days at Bahia de Los Angeles before returning home on Easter.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Herlihy of Deerfield, Massachusetts, announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Michelle, to J. Fraser Cocks III, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fraser Cocks Jr. of Carmel. A summer wedding is planned by the young couple.

Miss Herlihy is a senior at Lake Erie College in Painesville, Ohio. Mr. Cocks is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Occidental College and is now attending graduate school at the University of Michigan.

On UCSC Faculty

Yvette de Petra has been appointed to the faculty of the University of California in Santa Cruz. At UCSC she will be an associate professor of French.

Mrs. de Petra studied at the University of Nancy, France, and is a former faculty member of the University of California in Los Angeles, also of Stanford University.

Participate In Law Seminar

Eight high school students from the Carmel area are participating in a seminar on law sponsored by the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula.

Under the leadership of Kenneth Ehrman, a Monterey attorney, a 16-member group has been meeting for three hours on Saturday mornings at MPC. The program ends Saturday.

Participating from Carmel and Pebble Beach are Robert Louis Stevenson students Grover Wickershaw, Robert Ford, John Smith Dungan II, Angus Murray, Steven Kendall, Peter Rand, and J. Richard Wolf. Carmel High student Mary Faulkner is also a seminar member.

Thomas May To Wed

The engagement has been announced of Miss Patricia Marie Stauffer of Bronxville, New York, to Thomas Everett May Jr. of San Francisco, former Carmel city councilman and son of Mrs. Thomas E. May and the late Colonel May of Carmel. The couple plan a summer wedding.

Miss Stauffer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hans Stauffer of Bronxville, is a graduate of Briarcliff College and the University of Colorado, also attended the Sorbonne. She is a member of the Bronxville Junior League.

Mr. May, a graduate of Stanford University, is associated with the Civil Defense for the State of California.

'Team Teaching' Subject Of Talk By Medill Bair At Sunset Tonight

Tonight at 8 p.m. in Sunset School auditorium, Medill Bair, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, will discuss the team teaching program that operated in Lexington, Massachusetts. Mr. Bair was superintendent of this school system before coming to Carmel in 1963.

Team teaching programs are now operating in 30 percent of the school systems in the United States including the Carmel district.

Mr. Bair's talk will be the last in the Current Adventures in Education series presented by the Carmel Unified School District in cooperation with the Carmel Adult School.

Mr. Bair graduated from New Jersey State College, received his master's degree in education from Columbia University and did further graduate work at both Columbia and Harvard universities.

He has been an elementary teacher and principal, a secondary principal, and a superintendent in several communities. During the summers and on Saturdays he has taught university graduate students at Springfield College, the University of Maine, the University of Delaware and Temple University in Philadelphia.

For four years he was a member of the Suprad Board at Harvard University which was responsible for directing the cooperative efforts of the public schools of Lexington, Concord and Newton, Massachusetts; and the Harvard Graduate School of Education in attacking some fundamental problems of American education. He was active with the operation of the Harvard Newton summer program for training teaching interns (master of arts in teaching candidates) and the Harvard Lexington summer program which trained teachers for leadership positions in team teaching schools.

Medill Bair is co-author of a book, "Team Teaching in Action," published in 1964.

Children's Books

BY DOROTHY T. COLVIN
Children's Librarian

One of the primary aims of the children's and young people's department of our public library is to interest as many of our young patrons as possible in reading. Let us not assume that each youngster who enters the library is going to check out reading material—or even had that idea in mind. The reasons for coming to the library are varied, from using the reference materials for assignments or studying without TV and other interruptions to meeting a friend for a cozy tete-a-tete or to be picked up by parents.

We try to stress the reading angle whenever the opportunity presents itself. But being a voluntary process (and we would not wish it to be any other way) all manners of enticement are permissible.

With this premise in mind, the paperback was introduced to this department the beginning of this year. The initial collection of about 125 titles was shelved separately, headed "Paperbacks for the College-Bound." The titles were selected from a list, compiled by a county library in the East, and containing those books that colleges expect incoming freshmen to have read. We would like students, parents and teachers to know that we are interested in preparing these students with necessary titles well in advance of their entry into college.

The titles run from ALICE IN WONDERLAND and Kipling's JUNGLE BOOKS to Shakespeare's plays, poetry and commentaries, and William James' THE VARIETIES OF RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE. We like to think of this collection as a "living book-list"—a reminder to serious college bound students to browse and read (in part or whole) the best of what has been written. Such a collection also serves as a check of what already has been read and its worth. We find that a good many of the borrowers of these paperbacks are adults, either renewing old acquaintances or catching up on college reading.

"I've always meant to read this but never found time!"

Let's mention here the format of the paperback which should not be overlooked. For a smaller financial outlay, we can afford to stock more titles for even the special reader and also duplicate to meet demand. In addition, paperbacks take up less room in our crowded quarters. Be that as it may, because of the psychological factor of the sophisticated PB or its compact features, heavier reading gets more circulation in the paperback than in the hard cover books.

To broaden the scope of the PB, we have initiated a short story collection this past week to meet the student demand. It is not our intention to become a school library. The primary need of our student segment of the public is assignment completion. The short story is a literary form, and not a textbook. A core of permanent anthologies, collections and single authors are on the revolving bookshelf along with PB copies. When the collection is completed, it should number about 175 volumes. Already some students have shown enthusiasm over the collection outside of assignments—pleasure reading in a school schedule already heavy with required

NEED RIDERS FOR ADOBE TOUR PARADE

Local riders are asked to take part in the parade Saturday advertising the May 1 Adobe Tour of the Monterey History and Art Association. Mrs. L. J. Hudson of Point Lobos, the association's board member in charge of the parade, invites interested persons, including boys and girls, to bring their horses and "come and join" the parade. Those wishing to do so should telephone her at 624-1010 for further details.

reading. You'll find O. Henry, Harte, London, Hawthorne and Poe, as well as science fiction, supernatural, humorous, adventure and sea stories. No discrimination against adult borrowers who are also welcome to avail themselves of the collection!

Our newest PB addition will be a collection of some 24 sports books. A few are stories, but most are non-fiction on hunting, fishing, baseball, football and sports almanacs. The copy of THE HOT ROD HANDBOOK: HOW TO BUILD AND OPERATE A HOT ROD SAFELY we don't ever expect to find on the shelf. And we mean we hope that it will be in circulation!

The Book is the thing. We are convinced that if we include all available forms of books that our sphere of influence can be increased.

(I hope to see you at the Authors' Luncheon on May 1. Better get your ticket this week at the library. Meet some authors of your books and enjoy a delicious meal all for $2.25. What more could you ask?)

High School Players Open This Evening In Coward Comedy

Noel Coward's comedy, "Blithe Spirit" will be presented by Carmel high school students tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Carmel Junior High School. The play will be repeated on April 30 and May 1 at the same time in the same location.

Duncan Reed will play Charles Condomine, the male lead. Maggie Merrick, who has been seen in many First Theatre productions, will have the role of his first wife. Lory Swan will take the part of his second wife. She had the leading role in the junior high production of "Finian's Rainbow" last year. The part of Madame Arcati will be portrayed by Katrin Stoner.

Glenn Kovacevich, Ann Brown and Marian Reed are the other members of the cast. Geoff Cocks is stage manager for the production which will be directed by Miss Diana Hardy.

Tickets (75 cents) may be obtained at the door the nights of the performances.

Letters To The Editor . . .

Monterey County Planning Commission
Salinas, California

Gentlemen:
Subject: Use Permit for Refinery—Moss Landing

This letter represents the views of the Conservation Committee of the Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club.

Our committee strongly urges the Monterey County Planning Commission to avoid hasty or precipitate action in this very important matter. Reasons for this viewpoint are as follows:

1. Air Pollution

We refer to an article in the January 1964 issue of the Scientific American by A. J. Haagen-Smit of California Institute of Technology in which the Salinas Valley is indicated as having temperature inversion characteristics referred to as "Airlake" similar to that in Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay. Thus it is apparent that air pollutants emitted in the valley would be captured and retained much as occurs in the Los Angeles basin. Evidently all we need is a sufficient volume of pollutants to make our valley—including the cities of Salinas, Seaside and Monterey—another smog area like Los Angeles.

While we recognize the automobile as the largest contributor of smog producing agents, nevertheless our California Chief of Air Sanitation, Department of Health, Dr. John Maga, stated at the March 18 meeting of Monterey County Air Pollution Advisory Committee that refineries in the Los Angeles basin were a substantial contributor to air pollution. He stated that the automobiles probably contributed 75% of Los Angeles air pollutants but that of the remaining 25%, the oil refineries contributed the greater portion.

In view of this we ask "Why risk the future health and well being of the residents of this county and adjoining areas and risk possible damage to crops and other vegetables by admitting an industry which, in the opinion of Dr. Maga, would contribute to the likelihood of a smog problem?"

2. Odor

It seems inescapable that petroleum refineries emit an offensive odor. Such odor, born by air currents, may travel several miles. It is entirely possible that these disagreeable odors, so carried, would invade Salinas, Seaside and Monterey. The major damage would be in destroying the pleasantness of living in a county famous for that desirable quality. Additional to this would be the adverse effect upon the important tourist industry.

3. Water Pollution

While every effort would be made to avoid runoff of oily waste into Monterey Bay or Moss Landing inlet, nevertheless carelessness and accidental spillage are inevitable with resulting damage to beaches and wildlife areas. We point to the existing state-owned recreational area including the beach area north of Moss Landing and Elkhorn Slough immediately northeast of the refinery location which is used extensively by wildlife.

For these reasons it is our desire that a petroleum refinery be not established at Moss Landing; but if there is any doubt in this matter and if there is any likelihood of granting the use permit, then we strongly urge postponement of a decision until the following can be accomplished.

1. Air pollution code should be brought up to date.

The present county code is concerned only with smoke, particulate matter and sulphur dioxide (SO-2). There is no specific reference to the handling of large quantities of hydrocarbons, to the avoidance of their escape into the air, to the use of vapor recovery systems in the transfer of petroleum liquids and gases from one vessel or container to another, nor to the escape of other noxious gases or chemical compounds. A new code needs to be written and this should be done before a use permit is issued.

In preparing a new code, our county officers should collect the experience, not only of the communities in the United States (Los Angeles), for example, but should obtain air pollution codes and experience from foreign countries. In some of these, we are told, control measures are more stringent than any in the United States and we suggest these should be considered in establishing standards for Monterey County.

We repeat that the new code should be prepared before issuance of the use permit so that the applicant will know what conditions he must meet before he makes extensive capital commitments.

2. Water Pollution Code.

A strict code dealing with water pollution should also first be prepared.

3. Policing Force.

A policing force should be planned, its duties detailed and the cost thereof estimated before issue of permit. This may turn out to be an important factor in ultimate decision.

In conclusion, we cannot urge too strongly and in the interest of the future health and welfare of the residents of Monterey County the exercise of extreme caution, careful and extensive research and preparation of relevant codes for control of pollutants before a decision is made on the request of Humble Oil.

Respectfully yours,

James J. Kramer, Chairman
Conservation Committee
Committee Members: Earl L. Moser, Hugh E. Smith, Fred Bacher, Malcolm W. Steel

Editor's Note: Two weeks ago the Carmel city council authorized the city attorney to prepare a resolution opposing the oil refinery—this resolution to be sent to the Monterey County Planning Commission. In addition, the city council asked that the county pass an air pollutant code that will be as effective as possible.

Our modern press has made it regrettably clear during recent months that, with terror in the streets, violence in the parks and ruthlessness on the highways, the innocent bystander no longer cherishes much sympathy for those in distress or even in dire need of help. One must agree at this turn of the century that there does appear, in certain areas, a colossal indifference toward "the other fellow."

Happily, a day or two ago, we proved that the very opposite of the above can be true. This heartening revelation was typified in an unforgettable personal experience at the very hour of our arrival in Carmel.

We had arrived from the northern part of the state, a bit travel worn and weary, and, yes, homeless-feeling. Most of our worldly possessions—including even our flashlights—were in a van 100 miles behind us. The time—a zero hour—was on the edge of darkness. We were not sure whether or not there would be electric light in the house or that the water and gas had been turned on. A rather sorry homecoming outlook! Then, by magic, enter a good Samaritan! A neighbor across the street. He had seen our loaded station wagon, and evidently drew swift conclusions in our behalf. He came to us quickly, and warmly offered his help. He first gave timely suggestions about phoning the P.G.&E. emergency station about the cold furnace. His next generous move was an armful of wood, kindling, paper and matches for the fireplace. Can anything warm the hearts, as well as two shivering mortals, as quickly as a glowing hearth fire?

Our good Samaritan neighbor disappeared suddenly only to reappear with a fine floor lamp, which shed its glow in all the dark corners of the long living room. With the above mentioned "creature comforts"—light and heat—we began to feel as though we had really come home. We were joying over these comforts when our neighbor once again appeared, this time with his charming good Samaritan wife, who was also bearing good gifts—her neighborly warmth and friendliness as well as a bottle of wine! Behind her stood her husband with—of all things—a fold-away bed! This, added to the makeshift canvas cots, which we had brought along to "bed down in" in order to be "on the ready" for an early arrival of the van, seemed the very epitome of kindness.

A modern psychologist has made the simple, yet profound suggestion: "The spirit of the thing is really the THING ITSELF." The validity of that statement was proved to us that night when the thoughtfulness and friendly spirit of our good neighbors spoke to us so practically through their gifts.

Gratefully,
Estelle Urbahns

BECKETT PLAY AT MPC FREE TO THE PUBLIC

Two special performances of Samuel Beckett's "Endgame" will be presented to the public free of charge by drama students at Monterey Peninsula College.

First staged as a class exercise, the one-act play will be performed at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday evenings in the MPC Little Theater. Student director Terry Poland also plays the part of "Hamm." Other roles are taken by Mohammed Naficy, as "Clov"; Fakhad Saba, as "Nagg"; and Lada Kratky, as "Nell."

Author Beckett, whose "Waiting for Godot" brought him overnight fame, has been hailed as one of the major exponents of the avant-garde "Theatre of the Absurd."

People don't often realize when they're afraid, because fear has so many disguises. There's only one way to live without fear. And that's to conquer it—day by day—with the growing spiritual strength made possible by divine Love. The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

NEW BOOK ON THE SUR COAST

In process of publication is a new book in the Sierra Club's exhibit format series "Not Man Apart," which will cover the Big Sur-Lucia Coast country and will include many photographs of well known photographers including Ansel Adams and the late Edward Weston. The purpose of the book, as stated by the Sierra Club, is to arouse national interest in the preservation of the spectacular coastline that extends from Carmel south to the San Luis Obispo county line. The local chapter of the Sierra Club, the Ventana chapter, is particularly concerned with the preservation of this area and looks with interest upon publication of this volume.

BIG SUR POSTAL CLERK—WANTED

A position as postal clerk at the Big Sur post office will soon be open. Applications are now being accepted from individuals who are residents of Big Sur and citizens of the United States. No previous experience is required. Applicants must qualify in a civil service examination which will be held in Monterey. The starting salary is now $2.48 an hour with automatic increases to $3.38 an hour. For further information concerning this particular postal clerk position, any interested person may telephone Big Sur's postmaster — Mrs. Florence L. MacQueen at Big Sur 2722. Mrs. MacQueen has been postmaster at Big Sur for the past six years and the position referred to above will be to assist her.

RIPPLEWOOD RESORT UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Ripplewood Resort-Motel, situated in Big Sur on Highway One, is under new management. The new managers, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, come to their business enterprise with four years of experience as managers of another Sur Coast dining-lodging facility, Lucia Lodge, located farther south on the famed coastal highway. The Smiths have lived in California for many years and prior to becoming associated with the restaurant-motel business, Mr. Smith was engaged in the lumber business. They have a ten-year lease for operation of Ripplewood.

This facility is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hartman Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hartman Jr. Before leasing Ripplewood to the Smiths, they operated it as a family business enterprise. The Hartmans will continue to live in Big Sur. The senior Hartmans will have more time to enjoy their retirement and the junior Hartmans are already engaged in building a new home on the property. The Ted Hartmans Sr. came to Big Sur (and Ripplewood) ten years ago from Seattle, Washington, where Mr. Hartman was associated with the architectural firm of John Graham & Company, designers of shopping centers, the Space Needle and other large-scale projects. The Ted Hartmans Jr. followed soon from Washington State, where Ted Jr., a graduate in forestry from the University of Iowa, was associated with a large lumber company.

Clergyman Talks To Kiwanis Club About Protest In Alabama

It was a truly Ecumenical gathering of members of the clergy from all over the nation who went to Selma, Alabama, recently to observe for themselves the civil rights movement's work and the conditions which gave it impetus, according to the Reverend Robert O'Brien, Monterey Lutheran minister, who was the guest speaker at the Carmel Kiwanis Club meeting last Thursday. He told his audience that for the first time clergy all over the country have felt they must take an active stand in the present crisis which concerns every American.

Prefacing a description of his experiences in Selma, the Reverend Mr. O'Brien stated that he feels the cornerstone of our free government is the right of every citizen to vote, a right and dignity which has been denied the Negro for 100 years since emancipation.

Under "States' Rights," the states have the power to determine who is a qualified voter and in Alabama, each county makes its own rules. In one Alabama county, he said, a Negro must have a white man to sponsor him before he can register to vote. Another example observed first hand was the case of a school teacher in Selma, holder of a master's degree in education, who has failed the literacy test 13 times.

While in Selma, the Reverend O'Brien attended a meeting for the purpose of finding ways and means to pay for the food and lodging of sympathizers who had come to offer their help, or to repay the hospitality of local residents who gave so generously of what little they had. He expressed his pride in being able to announce to the group that $400 had been raised on the Monterey Peninsula

CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL'S 25th BIRTHDAY PARTY

Public Schools Week begins on Monday. As a special event during this period, Carmel High School will celebrate its 25th birthday on Tuesday with an open house. Parents of high school students have been invited to come to the school at 7:30 p.m. and to follow their children's daily schedules by spending ten-minute periods in each class their children attend. After the first four periods, there will be an assembly during which coffee and cookies will be served. Following this the second four classes in the daily schedules will be completed.

Parents whose children have free periods or study periods during the day, will be able to use this time to visit special demonstrations in art, physical education, biology and music, if they so desire.

for the assistance of the civil rights demonstrators.

In line with President Johnson's message, the speaker stressed that there must be a rebirth of freedom in this land if we are to survive. The eyes of the world are upon us and our solution of our problems.

Youth Orchestra On County Concert Tour

The Monterey County Symphony's 55-member youth orchestra, today and tomorrow, is engaged in a two-day concert tour of Monterey County schools.

A similar tour last spring was so enthusiastically received by more than 5,000 students that a return engagement had to be planned. This week the young performers under the direction of symphony conductor John Gosling, will play at schools in San Ardo, King City, Soledad, Hollister, Marina and north Monterey County.

These student musicians are representatives of seven school districts within the county which have given permission for their participation in this event. The youth orchestra itself was originated last season under Symphony Association sponsorship. It provides repertoire and performance opportunities not now available elsewhere, and seven of its members have gained sufficient proficiency to join the senior orchestra.

County Symphony 'Pops Concert' Sunday Afternoon

The fourth annual "Pops Concert" will be held on Sunday at 2 p.m. at the county fairgrounds. The Monterey County Symphony under the leadership of John Gosling, conductor, will play marches, ballads and favorites from new and old musicals. The finale for the first part of the program will be selections from "Music Man."

The Russian Choir from the Defense Language Institute will sing Russian hymns and folk songs for the last part of the afternoon performance. This group of students directed by Nicholas Vorobiev contains 80 voices.

Gus Arriola, creator of "Gordo" comic strip has designed the "Pops Concert" posters and Frank O'Neal, creator of "Short Ribs" has drawn children's figures that will adorn the walls of the Agricultural Building. Mrs. William Pringle, assisted by Mrs. Mark Raggett and Mrs. Harry Lusignan will decorate the hall.

A donation of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children 6-12 years old will be the admission charge for the Pops Concert. There will be no charge for younger children. This donation will also entitle the purchaser to win prizes which are being accumulated by Mrs. Edward McMurtry.

HIGH TWELVE CLUB

"Measure of Justice" will be the topic of an address by Judge Eugene Harrah to members of the High Twelve Club at their luncheon meeting at Cypress Club on Monday. All members of Masonic fraternity are invited to the program.

SERENDIPITY SALE

An unusual auction event, the second annual Serendipity Sale, will be held by the local chapter of the American Federation of Arts on May 2 at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

Webster describes serendipity as the unexpected finding of treasures. In the forthcoming auction it could be the purchase of a contemporary painting that took first prize in a show at New York's Museum of Modern Art. It might be a lucky buy on bottles of rare wine, or the acquisition of a beautifully carved chair that dates to the Italian Renaissance. Donations include a variety ranging from Wedgwood china and valuable Oriental prints to a wood door imaginatively painted by a local artist Carolyn Bishop.

Tickets for the auction include a cocktail during the colorful event and will also permit luncheon privileges at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club prior to the afternoon's activities. The public will be admitted without charge to view the auction collection on April 30 and May 1 from 2 to 5 p.m. and on May 2 for an hour prior to the sale which is scheduled for 3 p.m.

All proceeds will further A.F.A.'s goal to establish a permanent museum for the Monterey Peninsula where it is planned to house a collection of the work of distinguished local artists through the years.

Mrs. Richard Osborne is general chairman for this year's Serendipity Sale. Those wishing to have their auction donations picked up may call the A.F.A. gallery headquarters at Lincoln and Ocean (624-2918). Tickets are being sold there as well as from The Wells book store in the Carmel Rancho shopping center.

A Carmel artist, Walter Tittle, has donated one of his paintings, a colorful floral study, to help raise funds for the Ave Maria Convalescent Hospital operated by the Franciscan Sisters in Monterey. The picture is on display at Pine Inn. A donation of $3 for the hospital's building fund may be made at the inn, Mrs. Pearl Gannon, chairman of the Ave Maria building fund drive, announces.

A drawing for the oil still life painting of zinnias will be made on May 1. The artist, Walter Tittle, has painted portraits of numerous famous people including Elihu Root, David Lloyd George, George Bernard Shaw, Joseph Conrad, Arnold Bennett and five presidents of the United States.

Mother Mary Margaret, superior of the Monterey order, says the goal of the drive is $200,000. This sum will provide ten more rooms for the care of elderly persons, yet still retain the hospital's personal atmosphere. The Ave Maria Convalescent Hospital is being enlarged, she adds, as the need is so great for the care of elderly persons.

Winners in the monthly art show at the Carmel Craft Studios last Thursday were Gilbert Boyd of Carmel Hacienda, whose oil "Medieval Crusaders" took first place, and Mrs. Jack Hilton of Monterey, who was awarded the second place for an oil seascape. Judges were Bernice Fouratt, Doris Winchell Baker and William van der Sluis.

The next competitive exhibit will be held on May 15, from 3-4 p.m. It is open to all artists and work may be submitted in any medium.

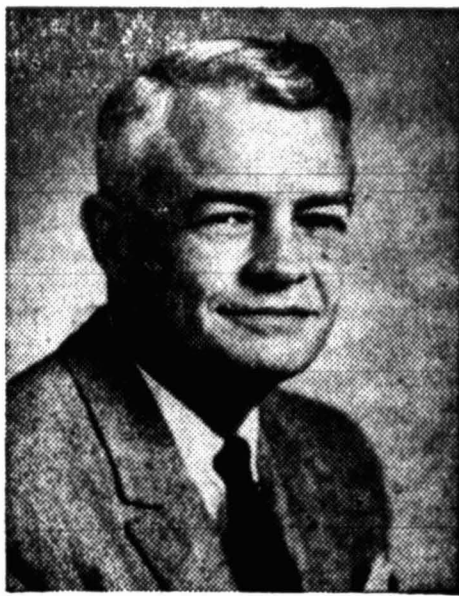

The Salinas Fine Arts Club is holding an exhibition of oil paintings at Harnish Music Store, 917 North Main Street, Salinas, from April 29 through May 1. The event is to raise funds for the club's art scholarships for Salinas Valley residents.

Beatrice Wheelock of Carmel is represented in the San Francisco juried show sponsored by Abercrombie and Fitch. Her picture is a large watercolor of basketball players. An invitational preview of this exhibition, which has a sports theme, was held on Monday.

Published in the April bulletin of the Society of Western Artists were observations made by Donald Teague of Carmel. This Carmel painter was requested by the society to tell about his experience as a member of this year's selection jury for the association's exhibit at the M. H. de Young Museum in San Francisco.

Mr. Teague says, "I would like to point out that the CONTENT—the thing the painter had to say—came first in judgment for acceptance. It is the painter's own personal point of view—his personal interpretation of his subject matter that counts the most. This is often forgotten by the painter who becomes lost in the delight of his handling of his medium, but I would like to emphasize the fact that there is always someone who can out-render everyone else and while technical excellence is something to strive for—if one has nothing to say—it can be an empty performance."

"There is always someone who

WILLIAM HENRY ALTON

"Life Unafraid" is the title of a public lecture by William Henry Alton, who is coming here on April 29 under Christian Science auspices. His lecture will explore in depth the nature of fear and the spiritual means for conquering it.

The event is being sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, and will take place at 8:00 p.m. in the church edifice on Monte Verde near Sixth. There is no admission charge.

Mr. Alton resigned as administrator for the Rockefeller Brothers Governmental Studies a few years ago to devote full time to the Christian Science healing practice. He has held a number of executive posts in the oil industry and other development enterprises and during World War II served as a captain of military intelligence with the Airborne Corps in Europe. He is now a recognized teacher and practitioner of Christian Science in New York City, and currently on tour as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

comes up with a new angle on time-tried landscape subjects—an arresting combination of familiar objects in a still life—or a different aspect of a figure subject who stops the viewer on his tour of an exhibition. I suggest that those things are arrived at by more acute observation, by increased awareness of the possibilities involved in almost any subject but most of all by the process of good, solid cerebration."

WHAT'S DOING?

Safeguarding your service is one of our most important jobs. That's why telephone men always keep an eye out for large scale construction projects and other hazards which might damage underground or overhead telephone lines. You, too, can help protect your service (and your neighbors'), by watching out for buried cable next time you have occasion to use digging equipment on your property. Better yet, if you or your contractor have any questions, give our Repair Service a ring before you dig. We'll be glad to show you where our underground cables are.

This is Dianne Johnston, our new addition to the Business Office Supervisory Staff in Monterey. Dianne comes to us from Salinas, where she was a Service Analyst. Since starting with Pacific Telephone in 1957 she has also held other various positions, such as Teller and Service Representative before attaining her present position. In the supervisory capacity she will assist and supervise the Service Representatives in the Monterey Business Office.

Mrs. Johnston is another example of the many fine opportunities for advancement with our Company.

April 30 Last Day For Bach Festival Ticket Renewals

The Bach Festival office announces that previous season ticket subscribers who wish to renew their seats must do so by April 30. After this date, all unrenewed seats will be assigned to new subscribers and the many requests for single tickets will be processed.

The 1965 Bach Festival will extend from July 16 through July 25 with the second weekend being a repeat of the first weekend's programs.

Opening night of the festival will feature an all Bach program, including Cantata No. 1, "Wie Schoen Leuchtet der Morgenstern" (chorus and soloists); Concerto for clavier and recorders in F major; and the Magnificat (chorus and soloists).

Monteverdi's "Orfeo," is scheduled for Saturday night. This opera will be fully staged and costumed. Sunday programs will be "The Passion According to St. Matthew."

Complete program information may be obtained by writing Carmel Bach Festival, Box 503, Carmel, or by phoning 624-1521.

Spewack Comedy Opens Tomorrow At Studio Theatre

Tomorrow night, "My Three Angels" will open at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant. Producers are Betty Hackett and Royden Martin.

Director Michael Keller has assembled a large cast of "new faces" selected by open readings for this farce comedy by Sam and Bella Spewack.

Playing three irrepressible convicts will be Paul Elliott as Joseph; Don Welsh as Jules, and S. Bryan Hickox as Alfred.

Jacqueline Beaton, a charming young actress, will portray the wide-eyed and naive Marie Louise. Playing her harassed parents will be Kay Carlson as Emilie and Tom Akers as Felix. John G. Beckman Jr. will play the shrewd and menacing Uncle Henri. Steve Cate will take the role of the handsome Lieutenant. Rod Allison has the part of the dominated nephew Paul. Portraying the tippler neighbor, Mme. Parole, will be comedienne, Cathy Balk.

With the exception of Miss Balk, Mr. Allison and Mr. Elliott, all of the above performers are making their first appearance on the Studio stage.

U.S. Army Band To Give Free Concert Here Monday Night

The U.S. Army Field Band will come from Washington, D.C., to give a free performance on Monday at 8 p.m. at the fairgrounds in Monterey.

Organized in 1946, the band has appeared in the inaugural parades of Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson and presented concerts in all 50 states as well as in Europe and the Orient.

A range of musical compositions of interest to all music lovers will be offered in Monday's concert by the 100-piece band.

The concert has been arranged by the local chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army in conjunction with Fort Ord and the Department of the Army.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The Christian's approach to final victory over death will be a central theme at all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Probation After Death." One of the Bible selections to be read is from Galatians: "He that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon will be these lines from the denominational textbook: "Emerge gently from matter into Spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into Spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth. Not death, but the understanding of Life, makes man immortal" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 485).

Pat McEldowney reports that Girl Scout cookie sales were most successful and the cookies went quickly. But nowhere did they go more quickly than in the home of one Scout whose little brother decided to give a helping hand while she went to visit a sick friend. He sold all her cookies the day before the sale was supposed to begin.

Scout Lesa Smith was selling cookies in the post office parking lot and ran out of change. She went across the street and a very busy merchant handed her a handful of coins. "I think that's a dollar's worth," he said. She discovered he'd given her 25 cents too much and went back to return it to him. He was so impressed with her honesty that he bought three boxes of cookies that day and still more the following week.

Dr. Howard Clark was at a convention of ophthalmologists and other assorted eye doctors not long ago and accompanied a friend on a shopping trip. In San Francisco's fanciest men's store Howard allowed as how he needed a nice, comfortable, sturdy pair of pants for wearing around the office. A teddily nose-in-the-air salesman handed him a pair to try on. "Well, they're very handsome," Howard said, "but I can't sit down in them." "Naturally," replied Sir Salesman, "They're not sitting down pants."

Young Melissa Scherman had a piece of luck last month and was given a free Arthur Murray dance lesson. She came home just beaming. "Oh, that man was so nice," she exclaimed, "He taught me a whole bunch of new dances—waltz and tango and fox-trot..."

The sheriff's office has been receiving reports of strange noises inside of Pt. Lobos Reserve. Well, of course, don't people know what season it is?

A highly educated lady of our acquaintance was planning a gourmet dinner party and phoned the grocer. "I want you to send me your best Liederkrantz and none of that domestic stuff now, you understand? Only the highest quality real imported Liederkrantz." After awhile the grocery called back and our epicurean friend was more than somewhat embarrassed to have to learn from a high school kid clerk that there is no imported Liederkrantz. It's all made in the U.S. "I think I'll just give up trying to be a gourmet," she sighed.

Arts Commission chairman Barbara Norberg, asking for "ayes" on a vote last week, neglected to ask for the "noes." "I always forget the noes," she explained. And her husband's the most "no-ing" councilman we have!

We have a very space age-y high school principal here in Carmel. Last week he flew to several cities to interview prospective teachers for next year. He held his interviews right there in the airports so he could hurry up and get on to the next one. Went to Wichita, Kansas; Denver, Colorado, and Salt Lake City, Utah, for sure. There may have been one more but Warren can't remember. Still up in the air?

The California Division of Highways has just published a report on "Wrong-Way Driving" and its incidence in traffic accidents, and guess who is the worst offender. Well, you're wrong. It's not the woman driver this time but sober 47-year-old men driving in moderate traffic on unfamiliar country roads during daylight hours on Saturdays when the weather is clear. The ladies are responsible for only one out of five California wrong-way accidents. On familiar freeways during rush hour at night on Fridays when it's raining?

The Modesto Ski Club staged its third annual Spring Costume Carnival at Dodge Ridge a couple of weeks ago and we got an invitation. They'd have had it a week earlier, they said, but they had to train the donkey to walk on snowshoes. Oh!

What? That's right, the donkey. You see, the feature event was a sky diver whooshing through the air and landing on a donkey. Oh!

We've been dreaming through travel folders on the wildly remote possibility that just maybe, this year... Doesn't Europe sound wonderful? "Come to France," the brochure beckons, "Don't know the language? No matter, you'll soon learn how to smile in French." And "Ireland: Sip cocktails in a dungeon!" "Germany: Your country—black bread, juicy sausages and cuckoo clocks." "Italy, where Leonardo and Michelangelo reclined and the Romans declined." "Greece—3,000 years away but it takes you only 10½ hours to get here."

Ah, but for us it'll more likely be some place like Eureka Springs, Arkansas, with its winding streets or Patagonia, Arizona, where they have the ultimate in bird watching.

I'm all for seeing America first, now; don't get me wrong. But it would be nice to think that I wasn't going to have to see it first, last and always!

Speaker For Humanists

Author-lecturer Marian De Ford (Mrs. Maynard Shipley) will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting on Monday of the Cannery Row Humanist Chapter. Mrs. Shipley, whose subject is "Science Fiction and Humanism," is a former member of the editorial staff of The Humanist.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Golden West Pancake House in Pacific Grove.

Carmel Foundation Programs

"U.N. at Twenty" will be the subject of the Great Decisions program at the Carmel Foundation Town House on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Helen Mears will serve as moderator.

On Wednesday, Fred Beidleman of Pacific Grove will show colored slides of Yosemite Valley twice, once at 1:30 p.m. and again at 3 p.m.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the programs, following which tea will be served at 4 p.m. On Wednesday, the Carmel Girl Scouts will be hostesses for the tea.

Mayers Off To Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mayer (Dora Hagemeyer) left Carmel this week to drive to Fishkill, New York, where they will spend some time before flying to Germany. During part of their European trip, they will be guests of a relative of Mr. Mayer's in Nierstein, Germany. They are expected to return in six months.

En route, the Mayers drove to Sonoma, California, for a visit with Mrs. Mayer's son, Max Hagemeyer, and his family.

Carmel Woman's Club

"From the Golden Gate to the Persian Gulf" is the title of the talk Mrs. Rhea Diveley's will present at the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m. The speaker stresses that this is not a long dissertation on travel, but a description of a few of the unusual sights and sounds encountered while traveling for five months on a freighter and visiting ten countries. Mrs. Diveley will wear an authentic costume and accessories which she purchased in India.

Also in Indian dress will be the hostesses, Mrs. Dayton E. Bennett, Mrs. C. Tod Singleton, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. Ramona Gahl, Mrs. Arrigo Young and Mrs. George Ivers Meyer. Hospitality assistants for the event are Mrs. Raymond Taylor, Mrs. James Lawson and Mrs. George Marshall. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. Ivan S. Merrill, Mrs. Gerit Henry, Mrs. John R. Lynas and Mrs. Alex G. Bolm.

Guests are invited to the program, for which there is a $1 admission charge.

Jeweler Wins Award

Henri Corbat of Carmel has been awarded the diamond certificate of the Gemological Institute of America in recognition of his successful completion of that organization's diamond training program. The institute is located in Los Angeles, with a branch in New York City.

Mr. Corbat has owned a jewelry firm here for the past two years. He has been a master Swiss watch maker for the past 15 years and was graduated from the Horological Institute of Switzerland. Prior to his coming to Carmel, he was associated with a jewelry firm in Chatham, Massachusetts.

Awarded Air Medal

Commander William F. Moore (USN) received the Air Medal on March 20 for combat missions flown in South Vietnam while serving with Fighter Squadron 51 aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga. The award was made in formal ceremonies at the U.S. Naval Air Station at Miramar, California.

Before reporting for duty aboard the USS Constellation, based in Bremerton, Washington, Commander Moore and his wife were in Carmel for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Moore.

Commander Moore attended Stanford before entering the Navy. He earned his B.S. degree at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School and later received a master's degree from George Washington University in Washington, D.C., while stationed in Norfolk, Virginia.

Architectural Editor Speaker

"Cities, Made by People for People" will be the topic of Elisabeth Kendall Thompson, senior editor of Architectural Record, in her talk at the Casa Estrada in Monterey this evening. Mrs. Thompson is on the Peninsula as the guest of the Women's Architectural League, an auxiliary organization of the American Institute of Architects.

The meeting is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Kent Casebolt Is His Name

It's a toss-up as to who's most excited over the birth of Kent Gilbert Casebolt—his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Casebolt, his grandparents, or his 14-year-old aunt, Heidi Hodal. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hodal, with Heidi, were here from Yuba City for the event, which occurred at the Community Hospital April 7 and Mrs. Hodal is delighted to remain and help with the care of her first grandson. Kent is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Casebolt of Bainbridge Island, Washington.

FIRST MEETING OF SUNSET COMMISSION

never want for corsages, since her father is associated with his uncle, Maurice Hanssens, in the Carmel Valley Begonia Gardens.

News of Linda Marie's arrival rushed over the wires to Belgium, where her grandparents, M. and Mme. Rene Hanssens and M. and Mme. Cyriel Mieresonne, were awaiting the announcement.

It's Four For The Reeses

Kenneth Glenn Reese, who arrived at the Community Hospital last Wednesday, has increased the activity at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Reese of Mission Fields. He is also adding a little competition to his brothers, Melvin Jr. and Scott, and a bit of additional babysitting for his sister Marianne, aged 14.

Mrs. Reese's sister, Mrs. Pauline Ruggis, is here from Ketchikan for an indefinite visit to help out in the busy household. The new baby's grandparents are Mrs. Viva Johnson of Seattle and G. F. Reese of Boise, Idaho. His maternal grandfather, C. E. Glenn, is a resident of Texas.

Receives Life Diploma

Miss Mary Alice Osborne has been granted a life diploma for the general elementary credential by the Monterey County Board of Education. She is a fourth grade teacher at Carmel River School.

Albert Comstock

Private funeral services were held yesterday for Albert (Bert) Jared Comstock, who died Tuesday morning in a Monterey nursing home. A familiar figure in early Carmel and a long time resident, Mr. Comstock was born in Virginia City, Nevada, in 1880 and came to the Peninsula as a youth.

Prior to his retirement several years ago, Mr. Comstock was self-employed as a gardener in this area. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Mr. Comstock's wife, the late Cora Belle Comstock, died in 1956. He leaves a son, Albert J. Comstock of Seattle; and two brothers, Horace W. Comstock of San Francisco and Roland D. Comstock of Mill Valley.

Family services for Mr. Comstock were held in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Action on this will be taken next week.

CARMEL'S SHARE IN AUTO LICENSE FEES

Carmel has been allotted $19,299 as a partial advance on the city's share of 1965 state-collected vehicle license fees, State Controller Alan Cranston announced last week.

CYO SUMMER CAMP

Seven summer sessions between June 13 and August 1 are offered boys from seven to 15 at Camp Santa Lucia for Boys, located in Los Padres National Forest at Arroyo Seco. A fee of $25 is required for a week's session at the camp which is sponsored by the Sacred Heart Salinas Catholic Youth Organization. Brochures and applications may be obtained by writing to 14 Stone Street, Salinas.

The camp offers outdoor activities and sports under the direction of competent instructors, lifeguards and medical supervisors.

FIRE CAUSES $800 LOSS

The Carmel Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call at 12:20 p.m. on Tuesday. Fumes from a cleaner being used on the floor had been ignited by the pilot light of a heater in a house at Lobos and Third. There was no structural damage. The fire had been extinguished when the fire department arrived, but smoke and soot which filled the entire house caused approximately $800 damage.

Owner of the property, unoccupied during renovation, is John Walsh of Auburn.

PICTURESQUE, STORYBOOK HOUSE

WITH EVERY MODERN CONVENIENCE

Rambling charm in a three bedroom split level home near the Village, on a 60 x 100 ft. lot with fine old oaks and the feeling of "belonging" in Carmel. A Dutch door admits you to a peaceful atmosphere of quiet comfort and good taste. The carpeted living room features a handsome stone fireplace. The gourmet kitchen is a living-kitchen with a delightful spot for a cup of coffee beside the door to a tiny deck. Bedrooms are all different and all interesting, and the house has three unusually lovely baths. The high-end-up bedroom has an ocean view and would make an ideal studio. Outside entrance to one of the bedrooms, too. A new central furnace; carpeted throughout—so many fine features at such a nice low price of $38,500. Delighted to show it to you!

A PERSONALIZED PROPERTY

REFLECTING THE GOOD TASTE OF ITS OWNER, this fine residence represents special qualities that should appeal to a discerning purchaser. Located on a choice corner site and protected by a walled patio-garden, this home was planned to take full advantage of an impressive view of the ocean and hills. The spacious living room with its cathedral ceiling, paneled walls, fireplace, louvered TV and storage areas and seascape view opens to a partially covered deck; the separate diningroom features the same outlook. In addition to two large bedrooms and two tiled baths there is a beautifully designed and equipped kitchen.

On a separate level is a comfortable guest apartment which can serve as a caretaker's quarters or income unit. The large, dry basement provides more-than-ample storage area.

Immaculately maintained, this property makes a most favorable showing.

Richard McLardy

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove for Richard Galt McLardy, whose death occurred Saturday in Los Angeles following a heart attack. A resident of Carmel since 1962, he was a native of Austin, Minnesota, where he was born on January 7, 1904.

Mr. McLardy spent his early life in Portland, Oregon, and was graduated from the University of Oregon, where he was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity. A member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, he was assistant head usher and served on the lecture board of the Carmel church. He also belonged to the Oakland Rotary Club, the Athenian-Nile Club of Oakland and was an active worker for the Red Cross.

Mr. McLardy leaves his wife, Marjorie Bennett McLardy, and several nieces and nephews.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements for the services.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Mr. McLardy may do so to Principia College, St. Louis, Missouri.
